3. NAVAL INSTRUCTOR.—Captain Richard S. Edwards, U. S. Navy, reported here for liaison duty August 22, 1932 pursuant to letter order Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, dated 16 June, 1932. His work as an instructor has been of the highest order and a great assistance to this School. Having a Naval officer as an instructor has improved, in an outstanding manner, our course in joint over-sea expeditions, landing operations and defense against same. It is believed that such an assignment will do much to assist in the cooperation of the Army and Navy insofar as the personnel here may have occasion to assist therein in the future.

5. SPECIAL COURSE FOR OFFICERS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD AND ORGANIZED RESERVES.—a. General.—The Special Course for officers of the National Guard and Organized Reserves began March 12, 1934 and continued until June 11, 1934. In compliance with War Department orders eighteen (18) officers reported to join this class, seven (7) from the National Guard of six (6) States, and eleven (11) officers of the Organized Reserves representing all Corps Areas.

b. Graduates.—The list of graduates is as follows:

Captain Lindsay M. Applegate, Coast Artillery Corps Reserve
 Major Charles J. Donnocker, 174th Infantry, New York National Guard
 Major George B. Ely, 2d Battalion 119th Field Artillery, Michigan National Guard
 Major Dwight K. Foster, Infantry Reserve
 Major Arthur T. Fulkerson, Corps of Engineers Reserve
 Major John L. Gaylord, Field Artillery Reserve

c. The following named officer of the Special Class failed to complete the course due to the fact that he was found physically incapacitated for active duty and was relieved from duty as a student March 19, 1934 by Special Orders No. 53, Command and General Staff School, dated March 17, 1934:

Lieutenant Colonel Donald Armstrong, 121st Cavalry, New York National Guard.

d. Recommendations.—It is recommended:

(1) That each officer who expects to attend the Special Course be required to undergo a physical examination by a Regular Army Medical Officer before orders are issued for him to report for duty at this School;

(2) That officers who are not physically fit for full field service be not considered for designation as either principal or alternate; and

(3) That the size of the Special Class be increased to fifty students. The facilities at the School will accommodate fifty as well as a lesser number with little additional effort as far as instruction is concerned.

S. HEINTZELMAN,
Major General, U. S. Army,
Commandant.
